

Planetshakers, Everything's Changed

You ask me why
Why I'm so different
Why I'm not the same as everybody else
Well something changed
It just happened
When I opened up my heart and let Him in
Jesus came in he came into my life
And i know i never felt so good.

Cause Everything's changed Everything is different
Everything's changed Everything is different
Everything's changed Everything is different
Everything's changed Everything is different
Now

You ask me how
How I can be sure
How I know it's not just something else for fun
Cause He's so real
So real in my life
He picked me up and turned my universe around

Everything, everything, everything in my life's changed
Everything, everything, everything in my life's different
