Plankeye, Compromise

There's a boy that I once knew He lived his life in pain Everyone thought he had it all But no one knows the truth Anger and hate so deep inside Waiting for their chance... A boy with no control looking down at a cold steel chamber Mercy at last Darkness comes on so strong His world gets painted black The frail boy collapsed The fight is done Just one thing left to do One technicality Face to face with death There's finally someone who cares Darkness comes on so strong His world gets painted black The frail boy collapsed The fight is done
