

Platinum Blonde, Tough Enough

What's on your mind, baby
Only you know what can save me
It's your design, so tell me
I want to know what drives you crazy
You've got me nervous
There's no protection, walking down the str
With your body heat

Am I Tough Enough, baby
Tough Enough, for you
Tough Enough, baby
Tough Enough, for you

I see the sign, clearer
Radioactive if I get any nearer
The fine line, tells me
That you only want the men who can take it
Your body's steel
But I've got you melting, right into my hand
I think you'll understand that I'm.

You only need to satisfy
The hunger that you feel inside
Don't try to cast my heart aside
You've got me hot. . so hot
