

Poco, Love Comes Love Goes

Do you ever think of me,
And the way it used to be?
You and me
The two of us like one
We thought it'd just begun.

But you know love comes
And love goes
While the heartaches hardly ever show

Till tears come
And tears go
And they're the ones you'll never know.

Do you still remember when,
You first reached to hold me and we'd pretend?
The world was yours and mine,
Lost in dreamless time.
