

Poets, Game Over

Seems to me like things are changing, and you know
There's times when I just blame myself
I always hoped that things would go our way, but no,
Here we are in this same old place

We have to open up our eyes

All the love we had is washed away
We're just acting out the parts we used to play
Everything has just become a game
Yeah, we had it all, but now it's time to say
Game Over

This time there's no more turning back, cause you know
Now we're standin' up against the wall
I only wish I knew just what went wrong, but I know
Nothing's gonna change the mess we're in

We had to open up our eyes

All the love we had is washed away
We're just acting out the parts we used to play
Everything has just become a game
Yeah, we had it all, but now it's time to say
Game Over

I guess we did the best we could
And in all the bad there was some good
But I feel there's nothing more for me to say
I can't do this anymore, no

All the love we had is washed away
We're just acting out the parts we used to play
Everything has just become a game
Yeah, we had it all, but now it's time to say
Game Over
