

Poets, What Difference Does It Make

it all comes over me I'd really like to see why did you have to go
I need to know
I miss you so if i could turn back time

I would have changed your mind
I'd never let you go I loved you so but still I know

What difference does it make if I still want you when I know for sure that I cant make you mine What difference does it make if I still need you when we already had waved that last goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye

How was I to know
When you sad you loved me so It all was make believe I try to see is it up to me

What difference does it make if I still want you
when I know for sure that I cant make you mine
when you've already had wawed that last goodbye, goodbye Goodbye

ooo yeeah...

I tried to see
is it up to me

What difference does it make if I still want you
when I know for sure that I cant make you mine
when we already had waved that last goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye

What difference does it make if I still want you when I know for sure that I cant make you mine ooh
when we already had waved that last goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye
