

Point Of Grace, Worthless

Jess Cates, Kevin Paige

I woke up today with a revelation
An introduction to the truth
I knew the world was round
What goes up comes down
And maybe I
Finally got it figured out

Chorus
A moment is worthless
No meaning, purpose
Every breath is just wasted
If you are not the center of my world
I'm just drifting, barely existing
Every minute without you
Is worthless

You know the state of my condition
And yet you hold me anyway
So I won't take a step unless it's your direction
Where was I
Before I finally realized

Chorus

There's a void in my heart
Where it's empty and dark
Without You and Your love
Lord, I'm broken apart
I surrender my life
To be right where You are
