

Point Of Recognition, Insult To Injury

where is your help when you need it the most?
the friends who promised to stand by your side.
let you down. making matters worse.
if they only knew pushing you further away.
adding insult to injury. i see your struggle.
i see the pain in your eyes reaching out for help.
your cries don't go unheard.
i will be there for you, holding on until the end.
