

Poison, The Scream

A verdict heard by the jury's word...they're lying
I watch as the victims of the slave ships battle with the demons inside
But no wrong ever righted or proved by the innocent dying
I pray from the ashes of the ruins, the answer will rise

Chorus:

Hey (the scream)

Hear their screams as they rise from the ashes

Hey

Lord save the soul who can hear the scream

A child is born to a world that is slowly dying

He chooses to march to the beat of a different drum

A man lays dead in the street, his mama is crying

The people, they measure this man by the damage he's done

Chorus

Lord praise the man who can hear the scream

Forgive us for our sins, I never meant the things I did

I never meant, I never meant, I never meant

Chorus (repeat)
