

Poor Old Lu, Closing Down

The last song on '8th Wonder', it was intended to be such -- a last song. Was it intended to be the end?

Lyricaly this song touches on the fruitless ways that we attempt to deal with our problems, frustration

goodnight
sleep tight
the sun is set
and day is night
just you rest
it's all alright

but it's the same
day to day
why can't I
sleep this away

a headache
(keeps me awake)
my eyes are red (from trusting too much in me)
I've got to pray
(I've got to give this up)
but will He hear me now?

goodnight
sleep tight
I wish I were
I wish I might

but it's the same
day to day
and I can't sleep this way

a heartache
(keeps me awake)
is my brain dead?
(from trusting too much in me)
I have to say
(I've got to give this up)
He said He'd hear me now
