

Port O'Brien, I Woke Up Today

(Oh)

i woke up today in a very simple way in the morning all i could do was sing i was thinking of things the blue ocean brings the way it glows, the way it always knows that when you lose something like a golden diamond ring you will know that it will show the way the ocean always knows

(oh)

yes, i understand i cannot live on this land but does that truly mean i have seen all that can be seen? as for now i will stay in the oven i will bake as you sit down to pray into the river i will wade
i woke up today in a very simple way
i woke up today in a very simple way
i woke up today in a very simple way
i woke up today in a very simple way