

Porter Wagoner, Just For The Lonely Ones

There's a place where the music plays softly and the lights are turned way down low
Sweetheart before you leave will you go there with me
Then maybe you'll decide not to go
The admission to the place is a tear on your face
Or a lonely look of love that's gone wrong
The songs they sing tell of what love has done just for the lonely ones
( steel )
Some tell of love so beautiful that makes your heart beat so fast
Then the cruel way that love turned their heart numb and they joined the lonely ones
The admission to the place...