

Post Break Tragedy, Surface

This is surface so let's dig deep with diamond tips We'll rip this flesh from bone, prove to ourselves that we can do this On our own.
We'll find ourselves some meaning and start asking for lyrics worth reading and we'll stay so smart follow our hearts and keep our hands held high while you all fall apart.

I'll sing this song at the top of my lungs just to make sure you hear every word.

And i wish these words would ring so true that they'll level you and resonate until nothings left I know you're not worth my breath.

I'll sing this song at the top of my lungs
just to make sure you hear every word.
