

Pretty Maids, Fly Away

When the picture re-appears

It might be a thousand years

Two young lovers in a world forget

Two young lovers in silhouette

Before the memory fades away

Be so careful what you say

For the picture is placed beside

Take one last look and close your eyes

Fly away

Don't let your feet touch the ground

Fly away

Don't let the world get you down

Now the picture re-appears

It has brought a thousand years

Two young lovers has a world forget

Two broken hearts is all they've got

Chorus
