

Pride And Fall, Extinction Means Forever

I did not think we get this far never thought we stand apart the signs you gave to me remembered all of them by heart so now i stand and face the pain as if it matters once again i have no time to cry as if it matters cause it rains emasculatation is your game in a sense almost your trade what made you think of this?
reign this time while you decide this means goodbye you have come to this thought this time i would not miss for what you gave to me extinct thoughts is what exist.
