

Primer 55, This Life

you've got no selfesteem, and you think you're so mistreated.
you can't stand your face, and you cannot,
cannot believe that you cannot control your fate

(chorus)

this isn't what you wanted someone to break you down and it never goes away it's not the life you wanted someone to break you, someone to make you bruises on your face, i guess you fell down the steps again and that's such a shame, cause you let it, you let it happen over and over again

(repeat chorus)

it's just another day, the last day he touches you again.
but that's the price he'll pay.
you pull the trigger, it all goes away in one determind flash

(repeat chorus)

(b-verse)

PAY!! close your eyes, you better, hold em' tight, you'll never, don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright, don't keep telling your life will be alright.

(solo)

(repeat b verse)
