

Princessa, It Just Begin

Down came the night
with neon lights
When something caught my eye
It made me sin and it made me grin
And still I wonder why
Now all it look, yes
It was just one look
To fall in love with you
And sometimes I remember, oh so well
How vision can come true

And I wanted the world to know it
That this love affair was so much fun
And with all our passion we did show that
It just begun

Up came dawn
The morning sun
We laid on satin sheets
You made me fly and you made my sigh
You kissed my mellow peach
The first was gone vibrations lingered on Content we fell asleep
I still depend and must realize
This daerest I will keep

And I wanted the world to share it
That this lucky girl would be the one
Taking all the chances was so easy
It just begun

And I wanted the world to share it
That this lucky girl would be the one
Taking all the chances was so easy
It just begun

And I wanted the world to know it
That this love affair was so much fun
And with all our passion we did show that
It just begun
