

Project Pitchfork, Metamorphosis

What I see is always the same
Nothing new in my eyes
No one to blame
What I feel is always the same
Nothing new in my mind
For my brain just the same

I think in time from a to b
Is it you or is it me
Who doesn't see?
Lift your eyes from the leaf
To branch - to the tree
To the forest - to the world
And back to the leaf
Lift your eyes from the leaf
To branch - to the tree
To the forest - to the world
And back to me

What you see is always the same
Nothing new in your eyes
No one to blame
What you feel is always the same
Nothing new in your mind
For your brain just the same
Does time move you
Or do you move in time? □
What do you see when you lift your view?
Quality and rules
Stay the same
They switch time and place

Things change form - and so do I
Things change size - and so do I
