

Psycore, Driven

i try to fill the hole in my soul always wanting more to regain control is what i live for i try to break through to the other side driven by my pride

i'll never give up

i always strive to be alive try to make life stick on the hook, always look for the final kick always seek the final peak the final page of the book i want it all

got to break on through before my time is coming to an end
