Public Image Ltd., Good Things

Little white lies-they hold little surprise

Good things come in threes The places I haunt-the powers I taunt And the little I need-I need!

Where the arrogance of presidents-drive with the top down And pop singers bite bullets-and pops kiss the ground The most favoured nations-should be atheists Not the penny pinch manipulators-of the fundamentalists

For everyone spotted-ten get missed
The deeper you look-the longer the list
And the CNN callning card-red herring day, "No news today"
Somebody somewhere indirectly directs them on their way
Stand up a token figure-and twist whatever they say

Pin it on no one-it doesn't matter anyway How many political despots worked for the USA And who controls down South America way and who controls the modern Russian way Death in the streets, death is a project All in the weak, the poor, the rich, the racist and free thought should be looked upon As an enemy Because free thought went to jail, long ago

What a pity

The spider's kiss, the White House astrologists How many political despots worked for the CIA The spider's kiss, the White House astrologists Fuck, it's the CIA
