

Puffball, Delirium Boy

I am desperate for a kiss to the brain.
Smoothen the core, let the trip detain.
Shake rattle and roll when it goes away.
Uncanny feelings that I can't let stay.

Delirium shakes, shakes me to the bone.
Tantrum freakout, highboy, weep and moan.

A rabid dogfight against myself.
Bend for the delirium or do something else.
It's a drill onto my forehead, it's a strangling tie.
It's so easy not to fight it and I won't die.

Delirium shakes, shakes me to the bone.
Tantrum freakout, highboy, weep and moan.

I must erase it, I know the habit calls.
Rid of the blurr that kicks me in the balls.
Shaking and desperate for my one true joy.
A day in the life of a delirium boy

Delirium shakes, shakes me to the bone.
Tantrum freakout, highboy, weep and moan.
