

Punchline, My Turn (Racheal)

You stop me with your brown eyes,
I just don't know what to do.
I should just face the facts-
I have a crush on you.

I wanna take you away,
find the right things to say and make you feel the same-and make you scream my name.

But I don't have a clue
of just what to do.
Could you please help me out.
I wanna make you shout.

But you will never know to what lengths I'll go for me to make you mine;
I have all these feelings inside.

You and I should get away
to our special place.
I don't want to talk on the phone anymore.
I wanna see your face.

Rachel, this is the last time.

I want to give you chills,
the kind that I feel.
I think the world can see that you were meant for me.
There's nothing I won't do to be right next to you.
I want to hold your hand and make you understand
