

Puressence, My Eyes Are Streaming

Thought there was nothing left for me
I gave up on destiny
'til she came floating by
I felt like I'd always known her face
Hail Mary full of grace
You're drinking my lake dry

But my eyes are streaming
And my head is spinning
And I don't know how I don't know why
You stop speaking and my heart stops beating
And I don't know how I don't know why

Thought there was nowhere left to go
She's like a prisms colour flow
So constant and unreal
Things sort a happen so it goes
In a town of fallen souls
I find it hard to feel

But my eyes are streaming
And my head is spinning
And I don't know how I don't know why
You stop speaking and my heart stops beating
And I don't know how I don't know why

Thought there was nothing left for me
I gave up on destiny
'til she came floating by

But my eyes starts streaming
And my head starts spinning
And I don't know how I don't know why
You stop speaking and my heart stops beating
But I don't know how I don't know why