

Rachelle Ann Go, I Care

Lying in my bed I find it hard to sleep tonight
Wondering if you're thinking of me too
Though I try to close my eyes I'm filled with thoughts of you
Even in my dreams there's none but you

*Let me say it one more time
The words I keep inside
This heart of mine has something to reveal
That you're always in my prayer
And this time to you I swear
There's nothing I won't do for you

I care

Friends they say that I might fall in love deeply with you
Would you care if what they say is true
Never been like this before and never had a clue
If this is love, I'm sure it's something new

Oh how I wish you feel the same for me
Baby when you look at me
That's how you seem to be
