

Racoon, Particular

First we drink our coffee now,
and talk about nothing in particular, yeah, in particular.
Why don't we just sit back and enjoy the silence for a while.

Truth no lies, tears and smiles are locked in our eyes
as we sit here and drink a beer and do nothing in particular.
There's nothing in particular.
But I enjoy myself; I got my friends around me.

Close your eyes and drift away.
You don't have to stay awake to talk to me when you know nothing to say.
Why don't we just lay back and feel the love between us now.

Truth no lies, tears and smiles are locked in our eyes
as we live the day separate and do nothing in particular.
Nothing in particular.
But I enjoy myself; I got my friends around me
