

Radical Noise, Burn A Fire

We put the hate in it
We're against to fit with the given limite
We will pump more blood into your veins

Because the action brings reaction
We will see the other side of medallion
Never mind the "life-size" you believe

There's no escape from the real world
Your spiritual guidance must be your right against the wall
Titans are on their way resisting Zeus
The power of self-expression can not be controled

We'll burn
Burn a fire
