

Rage Against the Machine, Maria

Tha sun ablaze as Maria's foot
Touches tha surface of sand
On northern land
As human contraband some rico from Jalisco
Passed her name to tha boss
She stuffed ten to a truckbed
She clutches her cross
Here comes tha exhaust
And it rips through her lungs
She's off fast to pasture
Like cattle she'll cross
Degree 106
Sweat and vomit are thrown
And she prays and suffocates
Upon tha memories of home
Of yanqui guns for blood debts on tha loans
Of smoldering fields rape rubble and bones
Of granes hidden trapped up in visions of war
I Am nothing no one nobody no more
These are her mountains and skies
And she radiates
And through history's rivers of blood
She regenerates
And like tha sun dissapears only to reappear
She's eternally here
Her time is near
Never conquered but there
To tear away at tha mask
And now she got a quota
Tha needle and thread crucifixion
Sold and shipped across tha new line of Mason Dicon
Rippin' through denim
Tha point an inch from her vein
Tha foreman approach
His steps now pound in her brain
His presence it terrifies
And eclipses her days
No minutes to rest
No moment to pray
And with a whisper
He wips her
Her soul chained to his will
"My job is to kill if you forget to take your pill"
Her arms jerks
Tha sisters gather round her and scream
As if in a dream
Eyes on tha crimson stream
Numb as her wrists spit shots of blood to tha floor
These are her mountains an skies
And she radiates
And like tha sun dissapears only to reappear
Maria she's eternally here
Never conquered but here
to tear away at the masks
