

Rainbow, Magic

There's a light in the sky that hangs on the edge of illusion something very fine but it's something you know is there mystery of time hidden by a man of confusion but the hand is quicker than the eye only the stranger knows why
'cos it's magic
you know it's magic that you'll find you see it's magic
I know who you are and there's magic in you keep your eye on the man and don't look away for a moment how is it done how does he make me see something up his sleeve when speaks you want to believe him

but the hand is quicker than the eye
can' you see it's magic that you'll find you know it's magic

driven by a force moving in another dimension here for today, gone for eternity seeking for truth hidden by the word of his wisdom
but the hand is quicker than the eye
can't you feel it's magic
you know it's magic that you'll find I said it's magic
I know who you are and there's magic in you
