Rainbow, Wolf To The Moon

[Blackmore/White/Night]

With a rebel mind and a gypsy heart No place could ever be home Drawn like a wolf to the moon it calls to my soul Ain't got no woman, they just tie me down Freedom is my only friend I get a feeling destiny lies 'round the bend One for the road Slave to the highway King of the road Chasing the sun as it sets in the sky Swear that I'll catch it someday Lights of the city behind are fadingg away Makin' my way through the names on the map No point in feeling alone As long as I ride the open road I'll always have a home One for the road Slave to the highway King of the road My future is calling a cry in the wind Leading me out of my past Got no destination but know that I'm getting there fast Crossed many miles got so many to go Each one calling my name Won't settle down and you know I'll never be tamed One for the road Slave to the highway King of the road
