

Rancid, Its over before it starts

Its over before it starts
Oh dont you know
Hold your marks and stand by
Ready to go
From London to New York, Montreal, Tokyo
I see visions of her everywhere i go
What have i become
Now that im alone
I just looking for a way of breaking through these walls
I just looking for a place that i can call my home
Is anybody out there got a soul
I just looking for love, girl
The girl with a heart of gold
She over turns once again with her champagne taste
She goes straight down the rat hole with her
Total wrecklessness and a
Tomorrow will come on through
And i got nothing but a pain
Nothing but a silhouette girl
Met her in the darkness
I say...
What have i become
Now that im all alone
I just looking for a way of breaking through these walls
I just looking for a place i can call my home
Is anybody out there got a soul
I just looking for love, girl
The girl with a heart of gold
Im at the corner, i started all over
Ive been hunting in all my years
It was always a blast
And i dream of this girl
Yeah ???
What have i become
Now that im all alone
I just looking for a way of breaking through these walls
I just looking for a place i can call my home
Is anybody out there got a soul
I just looking for love, girl
The girl with a heart of gold
