

Randall, Forever And More

forever wasn't a word i could understand until i met you girl, you turned my life around you look so pretty, with your long black hair you took my breathe away, without saying a word and you you're more then just special and you made my life worthwhile

chorus:

finally i can see now the skies are clear keep me alive with your words and more i promise you baby to love you till the end and i promise you forever and more promise you forever and more fate plays its games with destiny you're closer to me now, the feelings more profound i wish that i could pour my heart to you just afraid you'll turn away without hearing me out

chorus:

keep me alive with your words and more

forever it couldn't be nearer forever it couldn't be better cause you you're more then just special and you made my life worthwhile

chorus:

keep me alive with your words and more
keep me alive with your words and more
