

Random Ruins Of Reality, Let My Soul Fade spare me an hollow endless life and the joyful endless peace 'cause the answer's not a prize and the punishments can't be with a demon by my side and an angel's care for me I have paid for my guilts

I will own each of my sins

Rit.

let my soul fade

let it burn

and leave no ashes

let it go

and leave no footprints cause my life's been a climbing out of an abyss

even you can't understand that my birth has been my own death that no aid will be give back and no mistake be redeemed that the dreams die with the sun that the lies will win at last and there can't be a restart in the iron mist of time

'cause, god, I'm too sick of life and so I beg you
