

Randy Newman, A Fool In Love

Look at the light coming over me show me a man whos gentle and kind and I'll show you a loser now, show me a man who takes what he wants ohhhhhhhhhh how exciting
so the poet sings
when you're a fool in love and nothing goes the way you plan and no one cares and no one understands that you're a fool and you're in love never another spring for you, never a robin to sing for you, you're out there on your own
when you're a fool in love
seems like the skies are always grey you turn around theres someone in your way and its you, and you're in love sometimes you think that your luck has changed and a rainbow explodes 'cross the sky, but when you're a fool in love you'll be a fool 'til the day you die
