

Rascal Flatts, How Strong Are You Now

When she told you goodbye
You didn't flinch
When she looked back
You didn't even budge an inch
You stood there like a stone
But now that she's gone

How strong are you now
Without her around
You can't even keep one little bitty tear
From falling down
Tell me how strong are you know

Before she left you told yourself
It can't hurt that much
Now you're doubled over
Like you took a punch
No, she ain't coming back
Tell me how much can you take of that

How strong are you now
Without her around
You can't even keep one little bitty tear
From falling down
Tell me how strong are you know

What's that rule that you live by
You say tough guys never cry

How strong are you now
Without her around
You can't even keep one little bitty tear
From falling down
Tell me how strong are you know
