Red Hot Chili Peppers, The Heavy Wing

Golden light streaming from your eyes Give me a piece of the real thing And I live with you this life

Stripped and clean A restless wolverine An eloquent part of the whole dance And I stray

Tell the whole world to slow down We gotta get off and we gotta go 'round Tell the whole world to roll down The window is broken, forever unspoken Only whenever

Oh, I know that it's only gold And I come slow now for everything The heavy wing Oh, I know that it's only gold And I bleed into your pleasantries The memory Chemistry

Death to rise Subtraction of advice The criminal ties of my rival And I'll roll these dice

Cold supply Scraping to get by Blatantly flooding the low rise And I'll throw this knife

Trace me now through your innocence Tell me it's part of the program I started Space me now through your citizens Tell me it's part of the whole plan now Breaking my slow hand

Oh, I know that it's only gold And I come slow now for everything The heavy wing Oh, I know that it's only gold And I bleed into your pleasantries The memory Chemistry

Oh, I know that it's only gold And I come slow now for everything The heavy wing Oh, I know that it's only gold And I bleed into your pleasantries The memory Chemistry
