

Red House Painters, Bad Boy Boogie

(Young, Young, Scott)

On the day I was born the rain came down
There was trouble brewing in my home town
It was the seventh day, I was the seventh son
And it scared the hell out of everyone

They said stop, I said go
They said yes, I said no
They said fast, I said slow

Being a bad boy ain't that bad
I've known more pretty women than most men had
So all you women come along with me
And I'll show you how fun that can be

They said right and I said left
They said east and I said west
They said up and I said down

I tell you a story, it ain't no lie
I was born to love till the day I die
So you can line them up and I knock them down
Till they all came tumbling down

They said up and I said down
They said sleep but I roam
They said lost but I said found

It's a bad boy
