

Red Letter Day, Left Unsaid

I didn't expect that I would lose your trust,
But I should've lost it long ago.
Everything you ever promised me,
I guess I should've known.

You don't know me anymore,
So why is it your here again?
You just show up at my door,
And forget about what you did.

CHORUS

Wake up--when will you see,
All the things you've done to me?
Time's up--For you and me,
I can't believe I didn't see.

I swallowed my pride as you walked away,
I won't do that again.
I can't believe I put my faith in you,
But now this is the end.

Sure I'm over you,
But that doesn't mean I want your sympathy.
