

Red Lorry Yellow Lorry, In A World

In a world where could I be?
Echoes inside of me
I was on your lips a while
In a whirl came up a smile
In a world where could I be?

From the top of my head surrounds me
Down to where it might be said
Never never echoes are forever
Never never turn again

Don't take the oath that trips from the tongue
Just move your lips
Builds up inside to burst in a whirl I said it first
In a world where could I be?
In a world where could I be?

From the top of my head surrounds me
Down to where it might be said

Never never echoes are forever
Never never turn again

Never never echoes are forever
Echoes are forever
Never never echoes are forever
Echoes are forever

In a world where I could be...
