

Redd Kross, The Faith Healer

You out there in front of me
I think I feel your energy
And light it swallows everyone
I see your face
Can't you feel it now, the arbor tree
What we've made we soon will see
Light it turns to sounds
That make the morning sun

Give me everything you have that keeps you feeling sad
And I will give them back to you restore your soul from rags

I'm a faith healer baby can't you see it in my eyes
Come on give me your hand
I'll bring you happiness forever children, here's where it begins
I am the one for you

Listen now to what I say
Feel the need it goes away
Share yourself with me
And I will set you free

Did you feel that jolt shoot through your soul
No more broken hearts or empty holes
Hands that flow the light of love
Are worth their tolls

Give me everything you have that keeps you feeling sad
And I will give them back to you restore your soul from rags

I'm a faith healer baby can't you see it in my eyes
Come on give me your hand
I'll bring you happiness forever children, here's where it begins
I am the one for you

Lay my hand upon your brow
Happiness is our bond now
See the sun shine through the sky
Don't you worry baby we'll make it right

I'm a faith healer baby can't you see it in my eyes
Come on give me your hand
I'll bring you happiness forever children, here's where it begins
I am the one for you

I'm a faith healer baby can't you see it in my eyes
Come on give me your hand
I'll bring you happiness forever children, here's where it begins
I am the one - I am the one for you
