

Redd Kross, Zira (Call Out My Name)

Some people think beauty's only skin deep
But I've got something that you ought to know
Some people think it's in the eye of the beholder
Some people hope they die before they get old
Granted that you stole my eyes
Before you stole my heart
Zira, do you realize
That I can't bear to be apart from you

(Call out my name) You know I will be there
You just call out my name
You know I will be there

If I can't fret then what can I do
My whole world's waiting just to hear from you
I know that one day she'll be mine
(Poor Cornelius) - he'll be crying
So if you ever think of me
And you ever need love, Zira
I promise you the best that you've ever seen
Zira, I never want to see you cry

(Call out my name) You know I will be there
You just call out my name
You know I will be there
(Call out my name) And I'll come running to you
You just call out my name
You know I will be there

Some people think beauty's only skin deep
But I've got something that you ought to know

(You just call out my name) You know I will be there
You just call out my name
You know I will be there
(Call out my name) And I'll come running to you
You just call out my name
You know I will be there
