

Redlightmusic, Say It Again

Bring your brothers bring your sisters
Over the hills with all the others now
Everything will be alright

From the starting line flee to the borders bloom
Tell the elders your life will be in order soon
Everything will be alright

I say it again "Turn it over walk away a new man"
I say it again "You are free to make your choice";

Tell your story friend, I'll keep your confidence
Take the writing on the wall read between the lines
Everything will be alright

Cool water on my face, I hear the signs of life
Blue as a sweet summer afternoon in June
Everything will be alright

I say it again "Turn it over walk away a new man"
I say it again "You are free to make your choice";
