

REDZED, Nobody

I try to disobey and in the ugly way
This ain't my style
You try to make me pay, this such a lonely day
They call me liar

I never believed in myself
And you will never believe in me (Oh, you will never)
I never believed in myself
And you will never believe in me (Oh, you will never)

I see the feelings in your eyes and I know the clock is ticking
I think I'm overdosing and this ain't no surprise
I got the meanings in the bag and the silence in my pocket
The self-control I'm losing; can you give me advice?

Oh, I never believed in myself
You will never believe in me
Oh, I never believed in myself
You will never believe in me

Them feelings on the ground, they're making awful sounds
This might be the over
Let's burn 'em whereabouts, I want them fuckers shout
In all the exposure
This all is fak, I'm sick of chasing
I'm sick of chasing feelings I'll never find
I want to break, could be amazing
Could be amazing if you leave me to die

Oh, I never believed in myself
You will never believe in me
Oh, I never believed in myself
You will never believe in me

Oh, I never believed in myself
You will never believe in me
