

Reflexion, Crashing Down

Alone in my bed, thinking of you
Your beautiful smile turned out to be faked and cruel
Turned out to be faked and cruel
The shape of an angel, but nothing inside
I was blinded by the gaze in your eyes
The gaze in your eyes is gone

(Chorus)
Crashing down, from way too high
No more tears left to cry
I thought we were born to share this life,
Another victim of your lies

It's here and now, the moment of truth
No more lies, no angel disguise
No angel disguise
A touch so cold, it broke my heart
I am just another victim of your lies
Victim of your lies

I'm losing my mind,
Losing my will to live,
My strength to carry on
Our lust for this love is gone

(Chorus)
(Repeat)
