

Reggie And The Full Effect, I Won't Give Up On You

My friends could say that this was fun,
while sickly I'm staring out a window.
I can't see this other than chasing something that I always wanted you to know.
All of this will have to end someday,
The time will come when nobody's leaving.
Shut your eyes kiss me again and again,
And think about just what you believe in.

I think I understand these thoughts,
I'm thinking everything's a feeling.
Lay in bed all day just to be with you,
Talk all night while staring at our ceiling.
Came up with this off of a notion,
Still can't sleep 'cause of all the stupid motion.
What you with me so you'd've seen it,
I'll say it again and know that I mean it.

I won't give up on you.
You know that's what I'm saying.
Tell me you know it's true.
Thank you for always staying.
Please say you're here,
not far but near.
When I'm away, be back one day.

My friends still say that is fun,
And I sit here staring out a window.
I can say now this is worth a call,
in the morning to tell you something you should know.
Don't need a break when it's all done,
doing something that I always dreamed of.
I can't say for sure that everything is fine,
when you're screaming out from up above.

I won't give up on you.
You know that's what I'm saying.
Tell me you know it's true.
Thank you for always staying.

I won't give up on you (I won't give up)
You know that's what I'm saying...
