

Regine Velasquez, Goodbye

Love, look what you've done
You stole my heart while I was waiting
And now, now that you're gone
I guess I'll keep holding on to memory

Longing to tell you
All of my dreams with you beside me
And wanting to hold you
That's all I need but now it's over
And now I know what a fool I've been
You told me you love me and that love never ends
I can't pretend, it's hard to say goodbye

Time, time be my friend
When will this end, this empty feeling?
But now, I'll follow the sun
I guess I'll just carry on without you

Longing to tell you
All of my dreams with you beside me
And wanting to hold you
That's all I need but now it's over
And now I know what a fool I've been
You told me you love me and that love never ends
I can't pretend, it's hard to say goodbye...
