

Regurgitator, The Lonely Guy you left me standing in the pouring rain but i don't even know your name now all i've got is memories i think of how it used to be your head upon my pillow case i still can't quite recall your face the filter of a cigarette reminds me of a sweet regret and only the memory of you keeps my heart still alive it will survive and only the memory of you keeps me wondering if i might see you again tonight

let's go out tonight
take me where it's shiny and bright somewhere we can do what we like baby it'll be alright

i said let's go out tonight get drunk and maybe get in a fight maybe one day i'll get a life you never know what you're gonna find i try to call you on the telephone i get a disconnected tone i'm sure i wrote it down that night perhaps i didn't hear you right now all i've got's an empty pain and just another linen stain you got me down upon my knees is this the way it has to be?

and only the memory of you keeps my heart still alive it will survive
and only the memory of you keeps me wondering if i might see you again tonight

let's go out tonight
take me where it's shiny and bright
somewhere we can do what we like
baby it'll be alright

i said let's go out tonight
get drunk and maybe get in a fight come on it'll be outta sight until then you can give me a light...

let's go out tonight
unloneliness can be so kind i think i could be losing my mind and then i tell it to you one more time

i said let's go out tonight
and baby it'll be alright and everything's going to be fine i'll make it just like when you were high...