

Reina, If I Close My Eyes

tell me what happens when you stop being lonely do you find yourself forgetting all the good times I'll tell you what happened when i stopped being lonely i realized i could keep you here inside

...nothing ever comes complete w/o your heartbeat whenever sadness comes around you're still the one who brings me out

you showed me
if I close my eyes
I can still see you right here by my side holding me tight
whisper in my ear
everything will be alright
everything, everything will be alright
everything, everything will be alright
everything, everything will be alright

I can remember we would run for cover when the rain came down we were safe and dry holding you laughing until we went under I love trading kisses deep into the night should have...

if I close my eyes
everything will be alright

I'm closing my eyes just to see you open my arms just to feel you again and again and again
if I close my eyes
i can see you still see me
