

Relient K, Those Words Are Not Enough feelings, inside my head i don't know, but i'm thinking about you understand that it's so hard to tell you, cause you already know you already know when it's twice as hard to realize that i'm still trying twice as hard to satisfy myself on my own and i'm still waiting for things to change i lay my life before you, and i'm not getting up father, how i adore you those words are not enough father, know i love you, and know i am wrong Lord, please take my life make me your son

make me your son
