

Remy Zero, Sub Balloon

the lights distilled
as it goes hand from hand tonight cause we were not supposed to be here at all
is the world ashamed
the still comands
my body to remain
forever steeped in alcohol and flames
forever i'm your shame

star wound
so look up
you're always lookin down the time will show
the cracks i know
will lay my heart to waste cause i know where you want to be
this is not that place

it goes on and on and on and on...

with a word
the world is moved from us damaged deep inside
cause everything i gave to you everything you hide
with a star the light
the heat your car
simply falls away
cause i know how you need to be
this is not that place
