

Renaissance, The Entertainer

Here in the spotlight cold air tonight, I'm giving all for you
Days pass quickly, hope that you'll miss me when the show is through

The entertainer's no stranger, she only lives to play
The distance between us is only a note or two away

Travel to places, fill all the spaces in everybody's lives
Don't show the pressure, try not to measure how you feel inside

The entertainer's no stranger, she only lives to play
The distance between us is only a note or two away

We sing with one voice
There's no choice so join us
We're singing for you
Time and again in the circus of sound
Leaving the stage and the people behind us
Music calls--come and see, come and see, come and see

We sing with one voice
There's no choice so join us
We're singing for you
Time and again in the circus of sound
You've found something that's new
Travel to places, fill all the spaces in everyone's life
Don't show the pressure, try not to measure ...

Leaving the stage and the people behind us
Music calls--come and see, come and see, come and see, come and see
